PERIODICALS, NEWSLETTERS, AND INDEXES

The periodicals, newsletters, and indexes are at Syracuse University and are a significant resource for educators of adults. The collections at Syracuse University have been reviewed in terms of their usefulness to educators of adults who include: teachers, trainers; professors; program administrators and other administrators; research workers; counselors, librarians, business officers, promoters, media experts, evaluators, communicators, planners, technicians, and other support personnel; supervisors; sponsors; board members; legislators; and policy makers.

The listing of periodicals, newsletters,and indexes. here at Syracuse University was prepared with three explicit purposes:

1. To assist individuals in locating and identifying information appropriate to the field of Adult Education.
2. To assist individuals in reducing "arduous" search time and thereby increase efficiency.
3. To assist individuals in identifying relevant resource information which may enhance scholarly inquiry.

The collection in E.S. Bird Library has been augmented by the Clearinghouse of Resources for Educators of Adults, 218-224 Huntington Hall, Syracuse University, sponsored by the Division of Continuing Education, New York State Education Department.

This collection includes:

1. Periodicals - E.S. Bird Library
2. Periodicals - Clearinghouse of Resources for Educators of Adults (CREA)
3. Newsletters - Clearinghouse of Resources for Educators of Adults (CREA)
4. Indexes - E.S. Bird Library

The periodicals are available in E.S. Bird Library to students, faculty, staff of Syracuse University, and other interested individuals as well.

Mr. Burton Sisco has prepared the final lists and given consistency to them. Mr. Donald Holmwood has given guidance and assistance in relating the Bird and CREA holdings.

1. PERIODICALS - E.S. Bird Library

E.S. Bird Library of Syracuse University has a collection of 10,000 journals and periodicals. Many of them are in complete editions, and include those which have been found by our faculty, staff and students to be of assistance in their research and studies. Journals and periodicals are given call numbers and held indefinitely. A periodical as defined by Bird Library is published at least three times a year. There are some on the list which are published bi-annually and as such are exceptions.

The code used to describe frequency is as follows:

BI.....Bi-annually

M.....Monthly

Q.....Quarterly

W.....Weekly

IR.....Irregular

The call number of the periodical is the one assigned at Bird Library. The date of the first issue held at Bird Library is given. The date in parenthesis is the date of first issue of the publication. Those noted "in process" are currently being acquisitioned and will be available in the near future.

Location of the periodicals are given and may be identified as follows:

Bird.....E.S. Bird Library

ELS.....Engineering and LIfe Sciences, Carnegie Building

GER.....Gerontology Resource Room, Brockway Hall

CREA.....Clearinghouse of Resources for Educators of Adults, 218-224 Huntington Hall
